A Peaceful Zimbabwe For All Generations

STATEMENT BY NPRC

International Day of the African Child

Today the NPRC joins the African continent in commemorating the International Day of the African Child. Let us all work together to promote unity, peace and social cohesion for the benefit of our country, the African continent and for the sake of our children. It is our role to inculcate the culture of peace amongst our children in order to promote "A Peaceful Continent for all generations." The Commission encourages everyone to foster peace in every facet of our lives such as in our families, communities, religion, education, health, politics or in any other aspect. Children should also play a role in promoting and raising awareness of peace and taking the lead in promoting social values needed for peace, engage in consultations, initiate community activities that contribute to a safer environment among others. Peace as the basis of human development, it is critical that everyone participates in propagating it hence the call for the African Child to be a beacon of peace.

Peace begins with me

Peace begins with you

Peace begins with all of us
